

HealthWalk
Your Path to Vibrant Health

Mark Hinds

Up to this point in history, healthcare has been divided into two camps – the western allopathic model and what was known as the traditional medicine model from a multitude of cultures developed over centuries. HealthWalk is the leading innovator in combining the science of the western symptom based approach with the holistic perspective of traditional medicine while integrating the newest in emerging technologies.

HealthWalk has harnessed the best technologies to gather and analyze consistent, comprehensive information about the body and mind. This data is evaluated by HealthWalk's specially trained healthcare practitioners in consistent and customized protocols to recommend the most effective solutions from all healing disciplines to address the fundamental causes of disease.

HealthWalk also has proprietary products and supplements which are clinically developed and proven to support the body to regain, maintain and enhance health. This session will outline the modalities, the protocols and cases studies of people who have experienced the power of the HealthWalk system of health and wellbeing. One of HealthWalk's key technologies, MindSoul Brain Technologies, a brain mapping and sound and light frequency treatment system, will be discussed in a separate session by the developer and patent holder of the neuro-stimulation patents used in this protocol.

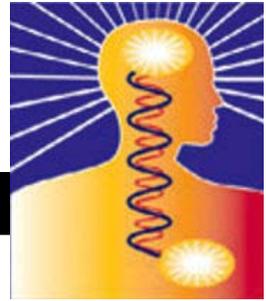

MindSoul Brain Technologies

Neuro-pathway Mapping and Treatment for Mental and Physical trauma

Dr. Dennis Maness

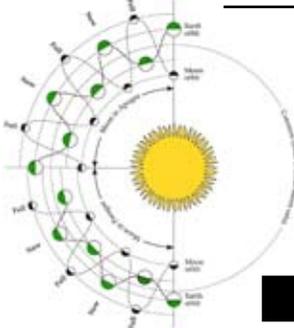

MindSoul™ is the overarching brand name given to the HealthWalk Company's products and services which map, support and enhance the development and repair of the human cognitive processes and responses which may be affected through conditioning, stress, daily living and damaged through physical or emotional trauma or exists from birth.

One of the key technologies in this group is MindSoul Brain Technologies. Dr. Dennis Maness, the developer and patent holder of Neuro-Stimulation therapy will discuss and demonstrate during this conference, the science and efficacy of MindSoul Brain Technologies to ease the range of symptoms of ADHD, anxiety, autism, depression, memory, mood swings, physical impairment from accidents and disease, PTSD, sleeplessness and more. MindSoul Brain Technologies maps the brain and uses specific customized sound and light frequencies to support the brain to recover missing or damaged neuro pathways to support the mind and body to maintain a higher level of homeostasis.

HealthWalk's results are significant, dramatic and lasting. Our clients include the US Department of Labor, a number of schools, learning clinics, rehabilitation centers and health clinics throughout America and the penal systems of California and Nevada.

Natural Long-Wave BioElectric Currents

A Neo-Taoist Examination of Earth's and Moon's Co-orbiting, and the Resulting,
Induced Long-wave Bio-Electric Currents

Hugh Tirling

Tesla's insights into the dynamics of electric generators, and consideration of celestial-object scales, leads to the identification of a planetary generating system and its effects throughout the biological realm. This new model provides a framework to produce larger, healthier plants by utilizing the periodicity of naturally occurring, growth enhancing bio-electrical fields... and indicates that scheduling strategies can optimize projects. Applied traditional Chinese philosophy introduces whole system dynamics (Tao), and unified complimentary antagonism (polarity) known as Tai Chi, (Yin-Yang). An examination of the solar system as non-symmetrical polarity, with the Sun as a point-centered pole, and darkness (space) as multi-pole highlights the light/dark dynamic widely recognized in the annual change of seasons with its attendant change in growth and demise in living systems.

A third major light/dark biocycle originating in the binary-planet dynamic of the Earth's and Moon's co-orbiting. This process, within the Sun's great continuous out-flowing of energy, induces on Earth a vast slow alternating current flowing within bio-organisms affecting both their growth, and healing. Plant growth studies, statistical medical records investigations, and bio-current research support this extraordinary premise.
